the Grand Opera House and the Stadt Theatre, and no violations of section 293 of Building law reported as existing in either. Important changes have been made in the Grand Opera House, very materially adding to its safe guards against fire. The recommendations and orders of the Department relative to necessary repairs to the Stadt Theatre not having been complied with, and a reinspection of the premises disclosing important defects, a general survey by the Department Inspectors and a Committee of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, was ordered to be held thereon, and the case is now under advisement.

HOTELS

Four hotels have been officially surveyed, viz.: The Crittenden House on Broadway, the Grand Central Hotel, the Brumley Hotel on West street, and the Glenham Hotel on Fifth avenue.

Three public school houses have been inspected and the recommendation relative to requiring the doors therein to be so hung as to open outwardly found to have been complied with, and upon ten of them the repairs ordered are reported as completed.
