New York, October 20, 1975.

Hon. Wm. F. Havemeyer, Mayor, &-c.:

SIR—I am in receipt of a resolution of the Common Council, approved by your Honor, on the 23d inst., granting permission to Messrs. Iohn & Welshofer, proprietors of the "Hotel Monica," to place an "ornamental lamp" on the corner of Seventeenth street and Broadway. Upon examination by this Department, I find that the said corner is one hundred feet from the "hotel," and that the proposed lamp would be in front of premises occupied as a private residence by Robert Goelet, and is strenuously objected to by him.

Although the word "ornamental" is used in the resolution, the lamp said parties desire to erect, is in reality to contain certain words, indicating an advertisement of their hotel and restaurant business.

Mr. Goelet objects to any lamp, either of an ornamental character or otherwise, being placed in front of his property, and I would therefore respectfully submit the matter to you for such action as you may deem best in the premises, as the permit cannot be carried into effect.

I desire also to call your attention to the fact that protests against the erection of ornamental

I desire also to call your attention to the fact that protests against the erection of ornamental lamps are frequently made, they being generally of an advertising instead of an ornamental character, and are usually placed in front of property, other than that intended to be benefited thereby.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, New York, October 28, 1873. To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN :- I have received the accor GENTLEMEN:—I have received the accompanying communication from the citizens of Memphis, Tennessee, now almost decimated by the ravages of the yellow fever, with which they have been visited. This calamity following the exhaustion consequeut upon the war, from which that city had scarcely recuperated, has intensified its sufferings, and it now appeals to sister cities for aid, in its dire affliction. The story of the sufferings of the people and their present condition, may be gathered from the petition. I hope that you will find a contribution within the scope of your powers, and will give the application your earnest consideration, with a view to such relief, as the emergency requires, and which may be most efficacious to accomplish it. W. F. HAVEMEYER.

New York, Oct. 25, 1873.

To Hon. Wm. F. Havemeyer, Mayor of the City of New York:

SIR:—In behalf of the City of Memphis, and the thousands of unfortunate victims of the yel-

SIR:—In behalf of the City of Memphis, and the thousands of unfortunate victims of the yellow fever scourge, which has and still continues to desolate their homes, and reduced many to absolute want, we would respectfully appeal to the City of New York, through her Board of Council, for aid and relief.

By yellow fever and cholera, since last June, fully 3,000 citizens have died, nearly one-twelfth of the population, equivalent to a mortality of 80,000 people in the great city of New York for the same period.

When the city of Chicago had her unprecedented fire calamity, the Memphis City Council appropriated $10,000, and her citizens subscribed $20,000 more, aggregating $30,000, for the unfortunate sufferers of that city.

Cincinnati, by her City Council, has recently appropriated $15,000 for the Memphis sufferers, and other cities have made similar contributions; but the distress and suffering is so great, not only among the sick and dying, but the widows and orphans also, that the necessity for additional aid is pressing beyond expression; we come, therefore, in the name of suffering humanity, realizing our unenviable and humiliating position, but conscious of being in the discharge of duty, and relying upon the world-wide reputation for benevolence of your great city and her citizens, would respectfully but most earnestly plead for such assistance as may be in your power to render.

We feel confident there is not a man, woman or child in this great city, who would not cheerfully respond to the necessities of any single individual in this, or any foreign land, whose claims to humanity should appeal so forcibly as does this object to Christian sympathy and national brotherhood.

In 1867 yellow fever did not disappear from Memphis until the action of New York and her citizens.

In 1867 yellow fever did not disappear from Memphis until the 25th of November, and its ravages now threaten to be prolonged with undiminishing mortality, followed by the hopeless infliction of orphanage, destitution and want, scarcely less severe than the dread pestilence itself.

Respectfully submitted. Your obedient servants,

WM. G. FORD, DAVID P. HADDEN, H. D. BULKLEY, Citizens of Memphis, Tenn.

And a resolution as follows:

Resolved, That the communication from his Honor the Mayor be received and printed in the Honor the Mayor be received and printed in the minutes; that the message and accompanying appeal of the people of Memphis, Tennessee, be transmitted to his Honor the Mayor, as President of the Board of Apportionment, with the request endorsed thereon, that he immediately convene the said Board of Apportionment, and on behalf of the people of the city appropriate, as a donation to the stricken people of Memphis, the sum of $50,000.

WM. LAIMBEER, Esq., President.

SIR:—I respectfully report that on an examination of the steam boilers at the Idiot House, under charge of James A. Dunham, engineer, I find that one of the boilers has been short of water, and consequently has been burnt and rendered unsafe, and requires to be repaired.

I attribute this to neglect on the part of the engineer. He states that he was without the service of a fireman, the man in that position having been discharged. I do not admit this as an excuse for his neglect, as it was his duty to notify the Board of his requiring an assistant. As I do not desire to be responsible for the acts of engineers, I respectfully recommend that when engineers are appointed, that they hold their position on probation.

Respectfully,

Respectfully, Wm. H. KNAPP, Supervising Engineer. Oct. 23, 1873. By the Board. Engineer discharged Nov. 1st.
