RESOLUTIONS.

By Alderman Seery—

Whereas, The general depression of trade and stagnation of business which have now followed the era of inflation, extravagance, speculation, and corruption, through which the country has been passing during the last fourteen years, under Republican rule, are indications of the absolute necessity now for economy of administration as the basis of practical reform in government:

Whereas, Public offices should never be places to be sought for pecuniary profit or for the emoluments they afford, and public moneys should be expended for the general good and for the benefit of the many rather than of a favored few:

Whereas, Reasonable and proper compensation to employees of government should be determined with reference to the actual amount of labor performed, and to the real value of services rendered; and the tendency of administration, during the years of the ascendancy of the Republican party, has been to increase the salaries of the few high officers of government out of all proportion to the salaries paid to the many subordinates, or to the wages allowed to laboring men:

Whereas, The permanency of our institutions depends upon honesty, fairness, and economy in government, and the industrial classes are the real taxpayers and ultimately the greatest sufferers from maladministration; and it behooves us to show, by our acts, that our promises of reform and of substantial improvement in the government of this city are not falsified by indifference to the present condition of affairs in the respects above referred to; now, therefore,

Resolved, That we heartily approve of the act of the Legislature, which was introduced and passed a few days ago by Democratic members, and by the terms of which the salaries of several of the judges and judicial officers and of the District Attorney and other officers, in this city, were largely reduced; and that we deplore the interference with the affairs of New York whereby other measures of salutary reform and economy in administration here, which were also recently introduced in the Legislature by representatives of city districts, were defeated by Republican members from other constituencies; and that we heartily approve also of the recent action of several of the Departments of the city government, since Democrats have acceded to power there, in dispensing with the services of unnecessary officers and clerks placed there by a Republican administration, only to draw salaries from the City Treasury, whilst rendering little or no actual service to the public in return; and that we recommend to those and all other Departments to proceed in the course thus inaugurated, by reducing the staff of each to the number of officers and clerks actually necessary for the efficient performance of public business, and by so regulating the pay of each and every of their employees, as to allow to each only such salary as will be fair compensation for services actually performed.

Resolved, That, in any measure of economy by general reductions of amounts paid to employees of the city government, the wages of laborers should be the last to be affected, and that we consider the recent action of several of the Departments, in summarily reducing the wages of laboring men, to be an unwise and unfair discrimination against them at this time, which will prove oppressive, and will be the occasion of distress and of privations to them and their families.

Resolved, That the present City Charter, which was imposed upon this community by the late Republican administration of the State, is in many particulars contrary to the true theory of government by the people, and in no respect more so than in the provisions which enact that "the heads of all Departments * * * shall have power to appoint and remove * * * all clerks, officers, employees and subordinates in their respective Departments," and that "the number and duties of all officers and clerks, employees and subordinates, in every Department * * * with their respective salaries, whether now fixed by special law or otherwise, shall be such as the heads of the respective Departments shall designate and approve."

Resolved, That we, the members of the Common Council, the elected representatives of the people in all local matters, are, by those provisions of the City Charter, unjustly deprived of the power of, by our own acts, regulating those matters, but that, entertaining the views hereinbefore expressed, it is further

Resolved, That a committee of five of this body be appointed by the President to call upon the several heads of Departments, to remonstrate with them against a continuance of present evils, to co-operate with the Mayor in measures of relief, and to report to this body at the next meeting the result of their proceedings, with recommendations of such further action as it may be proper for us to take in the premises.

Alderman Deane offered the following as a substitute:

Whereas, At a recent conference of the heads of the several Departments of our city government, it was decided to reduce the wages paid to the laborers employed on the various public works twenty (20) per cent; and

Whereas, It does not appear that said conference decided to make any reductions in the salaries paid to heads of Departments, chiefs of Bureaus, engineers, clerks, inspectors, etc., which, in a great many instances, are exorbitant; therefore

Resolved, That this Board deprecates the action of said conference, which, while operating with great severity and hardship against the poor laboring man, does not protect our citizens from the demands of high salaried officials and sinecurists.

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Board, two (2) dollars per day for a fair day's work is no more than a just compensation; more particularly so as laborers on the public works, being prevented from working on inclement days and in the severe winter weather, do not, as a general rule, make more than half time, and at the best make but a precarious and scanty living for themselves and families.

Resolved, That this Board urgently recommends the various Departments of the city government to reconsider and rescind the action taken, looking toward a reduction of wages of laborers; and further recommends, that any future reduction in wages paid to employees should begin with the salaries of officials receiving higher pay than laborers do.

Alderman Simonson offered the following, as a substitute for the preamble and resolution offered by Alderman Deane:

Whereas, Upon the rendering of the verdict of the electors, as expressed at the polls of the last general election, it was the boast of the Democratic leaders, that the people had repudiated the Republican party as incompetent to grapple with questions of government; and

Whereas, The financial embarrassment and the universal derangement of the industries, which then and now harass every effort, was attributed to the party, which was thereby deposed from power, forgetting, as it was convenient for them to do, that the colossal robberies which had been carried on during a series of years by the Democratic leaders, who unblushingly flaunted their ill-gotten gains before the gaze of the public, thereby stimulating the thirst in observers for the accumulation of gain, thus aiding in the general rush for wealth, which culminated in the financial crisis of 1873; and

Whereas, It was claimed that the Republican party was responsible for these disasters, and that thousands of the rank and file fell into the error of believing that a change of rulers would bring about what was so glowingly promised, a change to prosperity, and in pursuance of such belief lent themselves to aiding to restore the Democratic party to power; and

Whereas, The people of the City of New York are not surpassed by any other municipality in their munificent liberality, never complaining of expenditures honestly made, and willing to pay generously for work fairly done, never complaining of prodigality, save when a band of conspirators openly and defiantly thrust their arms into the treasury and steal by millions, without pretense of rendering an equivalent; and

Whereas, We are reminded by the recent order reducing the rate of wages of unskilled labor employed on the public works to one dollar and sixty cents per day, that it is possible to do the greatest injustice by assuming to act in the name of economy, and that such economy may be but another name for the most flagrant oppression, reducing, as it does, the average earnings of those who toil in the broiling sun during the days when it is possible to labor out of doors, to an average of eight dollars per week; therefore

Resolved, That the proposition to reduce the wages of unskilled labor to one dollar and sixty cents per day is unwise, uncalled for, and oppressive, and will result in wrong and injury to those upon whom the burden will fall.

Resolved, That the pretence of such reduction being that more laborers can be employed, and thereby benefit a greater number, is only an attempt to increase the injury by dividing up what has been but a mere pittance in such manner as to starve, by protracted dribbling, a greater number of the dependent and helpless.

Resolved, That the Democratic party is responsible for this; that the people will hold them accountable, they having given in this action the most unmistakable evidence of their incompetency to administer the affairs of a great city; that the heads of Departments be and they are hereby requested to rescind the order referred to in this preamble and resolution, having in view a proper regard that a full and fair day's work is given, and for which every citizen will cheerfully join in helping to pay.

The President put the question whether the Board would accept the substitute offered by Alderman Simonson.

Which was decided in the negative by the following vote:

REPORT :

Fully recognizing the importance of the impartial result of the investigation committed to our charge, we determined to hold public sessions of the Committee at which all who were able to throw light upon the questions under consideration would be afforded an opportunity of being heard. At first we had supposed that the ancient and important power of summoning witnesses and producing documents still resided with us, but on examination it was ascertained that recent legislation had stripped the Common Council of this privilege, and that now it is necessary, in the first instance, to apply to the Supreme Court for the issuing of a subpoena in the case of each witness required. Moreover, where the witness did not expressly waive it, the usual fees had to be paid, and yet there was no fund made available to your Committee from which this expense might be met. Should the witness decide to contemptuously disregard the subpoena, we had no power to enforce his attendance or punish his contempt, but were again required to apply to the Court for an attachment against him, which necessarily involved additional delay and expense. Availing themselves of this want of power in your Committee, many of our most important witnesses fearlessly disobeyed the subpoenas served upon them and refused to appear. The above, together with the difficulty of obtaining the services of stenographer upon the mere trust of future payment by the Comptroller, were a few of the obstacles encountered by your Committee on entering upon their duties. They were not, however, all. In two cases, at least, it is our firm opinion that the all-powerful influence of the public treasury was unscrupulously used to keep from your Committee the ascertainment of the truth by endeavoring to affect the attendance of necessary witnesses. The first of these cases was that of James Kedian. Mr. Kedian had done work and furnished materials for the College of the City of New York. His claim therefor had been duly audited by the Executive Committee of the College, but was refused payment by the Comptroller, upon the report of one McKonkey, an employee of his office. Suit was instituted by Kedian, and the Comptroller was defeated at Special and General Terms; but still he refused to pay. Mr. Kedian was summoned as a witness before your Committee, and that fact was, contrary to our wish, made known through the public press. The day before that on which Kedian was to appear, the Comptroller drew his warrant on the city treasury in full payment of the claim which he had theretofore strenuously resisted and delivered the same to Kedian (see testimony of Kedian, page 189). The other case was that of Mr. Charles Devlin. This gentleman had a claim against the city on which a balance was due. The Comptroller, in a communication made to this Board in February last, before this present investigation was begun, was pleased to select this claim from among others and cite it as a striking example of the many fraudulent and unjust demands made on the city treasury. Mr. Devlin had informed the Chairman of this Committee that he was in possession of important testimony, tending to impeach the official conduct of the Comptroller. He was thereupon summoned as a witness, and, as in the case of Kedian, that fact appeared in the next day's papers. He failed to attend, and upon the Chairman calling upon him in relation to the matter, he was shown by Mr. Devlin a warrant drawn by the Comptroller a few days previously, which he was informed was in full payment of the balance of the very claim which the Comptroller, in his previous communication to this Board, had cited as an example of fraudulent and unjust claims. Thereafter, in spite of repeated summonses, Mr. Devlin failed to appear, and your Committee were thus deprived of his testimony.

Your Committee are of opinion that, even if there were no other testimony before them, the above acts upon the part of the Comptroller are in themselves sufficient to stamp him as an unscrupulous public official, more intent on concealing from the public the dubious transactions of his office and on accomplishing his own selfish purposes than in serving the interests of the city, and as therefore deserving of instant removal at the hands of his Honor the Mayor.

Before proceeding to state the conclusions arrived at from the testimony taken before us, your Committee deem it proper to say that they considered this investigation, though public, as necessarily of much the same character and nature as a proceeding before a grand jury—that is to say, its object was merely to ascertain and report whether there was any foundation in fact for the many and various charges which for months have been openly made against the official conduct of Comptroller Green. They had no power to try the case pro and con, since by the Charter that power is expressly confided to a higher authority—the Mayor—and for this reason they did not feel justified in entering upon whatever defense the Comptroller may have to the testimony before them.

It is, perhaps, worthy of note that several of the public officials whom we were obliged to summon before us evinced a strange timidity (which we are at a loss to understand) in testifying in regard to the Comptroller. Subpoena after subpoena had to be served in order to secure even their attendance; and when they did appear their nerves and memories failed them on nearly all important points, and whatever valuable information was elicited had literally to be extorted from them. One of these officials, Mr. Geo. M. Van Nort, was asked if Mr. Green had obstructed his Department. His answer was—"As to that—I can say that—appearing here as I do, Mr. Chairman, under an order of the Court—I would like to state—with your permission—if you have no objection—that this matter is somewhat distasteful to me." This gentleman needed time to refresh his memory as to several questions. The opportunity was given him, but no means at our command could induce him to again appear. In consequence of this timidity and evasiveness some of the testimony taken by your Committee is irrelevant and worthless; the greater part of it, however, we believe to be most important in its character and well-calculated to throw needed light upon the dark places in the official management of the Finance Department during the last few years.

Annexed hereto as part of this report is the testimony taken before us, and, in the opinion of your Committee, it satisfactorily establishes the following findings:

1st. Unjust, unreasonable, and factious resistance by the Comptroller of just claims against the city, thereby necessitating a vast amount of needless litigation in which the city has suffered defeat and been mulcted to an enormous extent in costs, disbursements, and interest.

From the testimony of Henry A. Gumbleton (page 2), then Deputy County Clerk, it appears that the amount of judgments against the city, docketed in the County Clerk's office from the installation of A. H. Green as Comptroller to the 15th of February, 1875, was $2,739,407.94, on which the city lost more than $150,000 in interest and costs. Of course this amount does not, by any means, represent the sum total of judgments against the city during this period. There are many cases in the Superior, Common Pleas, and Marine Courts in which no transcripts were filed in the County Clerk's office. There are many others in which the judgments recovered were settled before the same were docketed. The gross sum of all these cases would have to be ascertained in order to discover the full cost to the city of the administration of the present Comptroller. We did not possess the means for making this discovery, and we would therefore simply remind your Honorable Body that the amount set forth in the testimony of Mr. Gumbleton is, of necessity, only a statement in part. Your Committee desire, also, to call your attention under this finding to the testimony of Messrs. Herbert B. Turner, Jas. W. Gerard, A. O. Hall, Lindsey J. Howe, Gilbert H. Badeau, R. S. Rosenthal, and James Kedian. In most, if not all, of the cases mentioned by these witnesses resistance, at the expense of the city, was made by the Comptroller against the advice of the Corporation Counsel.

In his communication of February 18, 1875, the Comptroller gives a very large sum as the amount which he has saved to the city by his litigiousness. Your Committee had no means of ascertaining the correctness of this item, but they cannot approve of or at all appreciate the reasoning that a public official should be allowed to waste the public funds in one way because he saves them in another. Besides, we believe that the following finding shows the necessity of receiving no statement of the Comptroller as correct until the same has been fully corroborated. An honest administration should promptly pay the just debts of the city; and when an official becomes so blind as to be unable, again and again, to distinguish between unjust and just claims without the expensive intervention and aid of the Courts, it is high time that he should surrender to more competent hands the trust which he so signally fails to fulfil.

2d. Falsely stating in his communication to the Board of Aldermen, of February 18, 1875, the amount of judgments recovered against the city during his term of office, with intent to deceive the Board of Aldermen and the public.

This finding is founded on a comparison of the statement of the Comptroller of February 18, 1875, with the testimony of Henry A. Gumbleton, the Deputy County Clerk, corroborated by an official search of the records of the County Clerk's office, hereto annexed. With the exception of a little more than a month, the statement and testimony cover the same period. Yet their results are utterly irreconcilable. If Gumbleton's testimony and the official search be correct, the Comptroller has falsified in his own favor to the amount of $800,000.

3d. Making the interests of the city subordinate to the satisfaction of his personal animosities, and needlessly obstructing the working of the Departments of Docks and Public Works, as well as of the College of the City of New York, thereby causing loss and damage to the city.

It appears from the testimony of Commissioners Wales and Van Nort that it has been the custom of the Comptroller in his official dealings with them individually, to act in a decidedly brusque and unfriendly manner, and that, by his interference, he has constantly obstructed the working of their Departments. Commissioner Van Nort's memory failed him as to instances of the latter kind, but Commissioner Wales specified several cases in which, by reason of the intervention of the Comptroller, the city has been deprived of large legitimate profits from proposed public improvements.

Your Committee believe that it is absolutely essential to good government in this city that there be harmony between the officials of the several Departments. Whatever may be the opinion of the gentlemen as to each other, they have no right to cause the city to suffer for the mere gratification of their personal spites and prejudices, and any such conduct is, in our opinion, good and sufficient cause for the prompt removal of the guilty official.

Alexander S. Webb, President of the College of the City of New York, testifies (p. 243), that the action of the College has been impeded and its credit impaired by the unwarrantable meddling of the Comptroller in its affairs. His testimony is corroborated by others connected with the College. Your Committee can see little hope of good results in the continuance in power of an official at whose hands even the sacred cause of public education is not safe.

4th. Willfully refusing, upon false grounds, to pay the salaries of the clerks of the Commissioners of Accounts, and refusing to furnish the Commissioners with the requisite books, papers, and information, and otherwise impeding them in their investigation of the Finance Department, all with the intent to prevent the performance by those officials of their public duties, and to conceal the hidden workings of the Finance Department.

The testimony of Commissioner Howe shows that the Comptroller refused to pay (and did not pay until judgments were obtained), the salaries of the clerks of his Department, on the ground that there was no appropriation. That at this very time there was a balance of an appropriation standing to the credit of his Department sufficient to meet the payment of these salaries, and that this refusal was contrary to the advice of the Corporation Counsel.

The refusal (established by the same witness), of the Comptroller to furnish books, papers, and information to the Commissioners of Accounts during their investigation of the Finance Department is, in our opinion, an offense of the most serious character. It is an attempt to frustrate the intention of the Legislature in the creation of this commission. That intention undoubtedly was, that the public might be reliably informed at frequent intervals of the inmost workings and financial condition of the several city Departments; because past experience had shown that some such safeguard and check upon the loose management of corrupt officials was imperatively demanded.

Your Committee can see no reason why any Department, whose administration has been honest and proper, should endeavor to prevent a thorough investigation of its affairs.

5th. Gross official carelessness and neglect of duty in paying the exorbitant bills of one Sternbach, palpably made out to evade the provisions of the Charter, forbidding the purchase by the city of supplies of a value in excess of $1,000, except from the lowest bidder.

This finding is established by the testimony of Lindsey J. Howe, and by the report of the Commissioner of Accounts, of 1874. The facts therein referred to were deemed sufficient by Mayor Vance to justify the removal of the late Commissioners of Charities and Correction.

In our opinion the conduct of the Comptroller in paying these exorbitant and deceitful bills without an examination, which would have disclosed their true character, is equally worthy of condemnation.

6th. Gross official carelessness and waste of the public funds in paying the exorbitant bills of Simon Sterne, for pretended services at Albany in redrafting the annexation act—the redrafting of said act having been substantially performed by other parties.

In support of this finding, we refer to the bill of Simon Sterne and to the testimony of Messrs. George H. Foster and William Cauldwell, to the effect that the annexation act was redrafted by them, and that Mr. Sterne's services were of little or no value.

7th. Official misconduct and waste in employing and paying to Dexter A. Hawkins large sums of the public moneys for services at Albany in regard to legislation affecting the City of New York, such employment and payment being without warrant of law.

In support of this finding we refer to article 6, section 38, of the Charter, which forbids the employment of counsel by the Departments of the city government, and which authorizes the Law Department alone to furnish legal assistance to the several Departments.

We also refer to the testimony of Hon. E. D. Smith, Corporation Counsel, to the effect that he never authorized the employment of Hawkins.

Your Committee are informed that a former Grand Jury, acting upon similar evidence, found a true bill of indictment against Comptroller Green, but that subsequently they were induced (how, we know not) to reconsider their action.

The letter of Mr. Hawkins to the Comptroller, on sending in his bill for $7,444.75, is unique and candid in its style, and worthy of especial attention, as throwing some little light upon this whole affair. It begins:

"Hon. A. H. GREEN, Comptroller:

"DEAR SIR—Inclosed please find detailed statement of my charges for services in regard to legislation for the city, AT THE RATE AGREED UPON," etc., etc.

8th. Falsely stating the amount necessary to pay the interest on the city debt during the year 1874, with the intent to deceive the public as to the amount of the city indebtedness; and

9th. Illegally using the unexpended balance of interest for the year 1873 in payment of the interest of 1874, without authority of the Board of Apportionment as required by the Charter and laws of this State.

In support of the two findings above set forth, we refer to chapter 308, section 2, of the Laws of 1874, requiring action on the part of the Board of Apportionment to authorize the transfer of any unexpended balance; to the testimony of Hon. John Wheeler, Secretary to the Board of Apportionment, and to the official records of said Board, pages, 415, 576, 742, 743, and 746.

From such testimony and records the following facts appear: That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment having, in compliance with law, met in June, to reapportion to the several Departments the amounts necessary to carry on the city government for 1874, the Comptroller then stated, in writing, that $8,300,000 was the amount necessary to pay the interest on the city debt; that in October, 1874, he asked for and obtained authority from the Board to transfer unexpended balances to the amount of $90,000 additional to the amount previously appropriated; that subsequently, by reason of the very large amount asked for by the Comptroller in the yearly budget for the interest of 1875, it was suddenly discovered by the other members of the Board that a large sum of money, in addition to that appropriated by them, had been used by the Comptroller in payment of the interest of 1874; that when the Comptroller found his acts discovered, he offered in the Board, and endeavored to pass therein, an ex post facto resolution legalizing his past official misconduct, which resolution was, by the vote of all his associates, laid upon the table; that the Board of Apportionment, at the meeting of December 30, 1874, passed, by the affirmative votes of all his associates, a resolution severely censuring the Comptroller for his official misconduct, as above set forth.

It also appears, from the official minutes of the Board, that this is not the only act of the very same nature on the part of the Comptroller. In a statement accompanying the first budget for the year 1874, the Comptroller states (minutes of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, page 117) that he has used an unexpended balance of $1,326,071.61 in payment of the interest of 1873; yet the records of the Board are searched in vain for any authority for this act, and so skillfully was the affair managed that even to-day the Secretary of the Board was in ignorance of the fact, until his attention was called to it by a member of your Committee.

Your Committee know of no language severe enough to properly condemn this species of official charlatanism, by which the people are deceived as to the true amount of their obligations, and an unscrupulous official enabled to clothe himself in the garb of an inexorably just and self-sacrificing Reformer.

10th. Gross official misconduct and neglect of duty in connection with the payment from the city treasury to Mary Belle Scott Uda of the sum of $25,000, for the patent of the aerial fire ladder, immediately after the assignment by her of all her interest therein to William B. White, then and now Secretary of the New York Fire Department.

In support of this finding, we refer to the testimony of George C. Moses, Charles H. Hodges, Hon. E. D. Smith, the affidavit of Mrs. Uda, the minutes of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment (pp. 163, 175, 259, 319, and 421), as well as to the answer of Wm. B. White, Secretary of the Fire Department, to the resolution of the Fire Commissioners, calling on him for an explanation.

The facts shown by the above testimony are of a peculiarly interesting and suggestive character. It appears that the New York Fire Department bought from Mary Belle Scott Uda her patent of an "aerial fire ladder," and agreed to pay her therefor $25,000. On her seeking payment from Mr. Green he acted the double part of strenuously resisting and refusing payment as Comptroller, while at the same time he was, as a member of the Board of Apportionment, just as strenuously advocating the appropriation of the amount of the claim; so that he might be in a position to pay the same when in his judgment the time therefor had arrived. That Mrs. Uda, heretofore unable to obtain payment, assigned her claim to Wm. B. White, Secretary of the Fire Department, and that within a few days thereafter the Comptroller paid the claim to Mrs. Uda, together with the sum of $1,500 to a lawyer named Jordan, for an opinion adverse to the city. That the Fire Commissioners, by resolution, disclaimed all knowledge of the conduct of their Secretary, and called on him to explain. That he admitted, in writing, the purchase of the patent prior to the payment by the Comptroller. That a resolution of removal was prepared and published, but that no quorum of the Fire Commissioners could be obtained to take action thereon.

Your Committee have no desire to strike at a subordinate, where they believe higher officials to be concerned, but should their recommendation hereinafter contained be approved, they would respectfully suggest that a searching inquiry be made to ascertain what influence was used to retain Secretary White in his position after his admission of an act clearly in direct violation of the following provision of the Charter:

§ 101. No member of the Common Council, head of Department, . . . or clerk therein, or other officer of the corporation, shall become, directly or indirectly interested in or in the performance of any contract, work or business, or the sale of any article, the expense, price or consideration of which is payable from the city treasury.

Other testimony tending to show that the Comptroller has endeavored to usurp the right of speaking to the Legislature on behalf of this city, which right belongs alone to the Mayor and Common Council; that he has been guilty of disrespect and insolence to the Mayor; that he has endeavored to dictate to the Mayor the manner in which he should perform his official duties, and tried to coerce him into obedience; that by means of the public moneys he has surrounded himself with servile and soulless tools, ready at his command either to influence public legislation or blacken character; that he has used the clerks of his Department during business hours for his personal ends; in short, that he has set himself up in various ways in opposition to the Mayor, Common Council, and other officials, as the one honest official connected with the Municipal Government who really has the interest of the city at heart, and was easily accessible to your Committee, but as most of these facts are matters of public notoriety and susceptible of proof from records at the command of all, your Committee did not deem it their duty to take testimony in relation thereto.

Your Honorable Body has in the resolutions referred to us, made it our duty to report to you "with such recommendations as may seem advisable and for the best interests of the city."

If you determine to adopt this report, we can see only one course which it is possible for you to pursue, and that is that you immediately transmit to his Honor the Mayor the voluminous testimony hereto annexed, together with this report, and respectfully request him to present charges against the Comptroller and afford him an opportunity of being heard in his defense.

We therefore respectfully recommend to your Honorable Body the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the report of the Law Committee, in relation to the official conduct of the Comptroller, be adopted, and that the Clerk of this Board transmit the same, together with the testimony thereto annexed, to his Honor the Mayor, with the request that he present charges against the Comptroller, and afford him an opportunity of being heard.

MESSAGES FROM HIS HONOR THE MAYOR.

(G. O. 322.)

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CITY HALL,
NEW YORK, June 2, 1875.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith transmit for your consideration a petition signed by owners of property in the vicinity of Riverside avenue, in favor of prosecution of the work of regulating, etc., that avenue, accompanied by a form of proposed resolution or ordinance.

I am told that the majority of the owners of property subject to assessment for the work upon the avenue are signers of the petition, and that they are owners of most of the property to be assessed.

My own views with reference to Riverside avenue were expressed in my message to you of the 4th of January, 1875, and I invite your attention to what I then said.

I recommend prompt and proper action upon the questions presented by the petition.

WM. H. WICKHAM, Mayor.

Resolved, That Riverside avenue, from Seventy-second street to the northerly side of Eighty-fifth street, and from the southerly side of Eighty-eighth street to One Hundred and Thirtieth street, be regulated and graded, the curb and gutter stones set, the sidewalks flagged or paved, and the roadway constructed under the direction of the Department of Public Parks, and that the work, labor, and material required for such regulating, grading, curb, gutter, flagging, paving and roadway be done and procured by the said Department of Public Parks by contract or by day's work, or in such manner as the said Department may deem for the best interests of the city and the property-owners; and that the accompanying ordinance therefor be adopted.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of New York:

The petition of the undersigned respectfully shows, that they are owners of property lying between Seventy-second and One Hundred and Twenty-ninth streets, and the Eleventh avenue and Riverside avenue:

That nearly three years have elapsed since the ground for Riverside Park and avenue was taken, under proceedings initiated by the city;

That the property of your petitioners has been heavily assessed and taxed for the benefit, which it was assumed, would be derived from said improvements;

That the long delay in proceeding with the construction of said avenue has caused great damage to the property of your petitioners;

Your petitioners, therefore, earnestly pray that you will take proceedings, without further delay, for the construction of the said Riverside avenue.

And your petitioners will ever pray, etc.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CITY HALL,
NEW YORK, June 2, 1875.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, the "resolution to permit William M. Burkle to retain the show-case at No. 214 Broadway."
After careful inquiry into the facts, I am unable to find any reasons for a departure in this instance from the general rule which requires permits of this kind to issue from the Permit Bureau upon proper applications and subject to prescribed regulations.

WM. H. WICKHAM, Mayor.

Received, laid on the table, and directed to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CITY HALL,
NEW YORK, June 2, 1875.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the request made by you on the 27th ult., by resolution adopted on that day, I herewith return the resolution adopted on the 13th ult., "to amend lease of building, corner of Kingsbridge road and College avenue," etc., etc., which latter resolution has not been approved by me.

WM. H. WICKHAM, Mayor.

Which was ordered on file.

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CITY HALL,
NEW YORK, June 2, 1875.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith return, without my approval, the ordinance "that Forty-fourth street, from Eleventh avenue to Hudson river, be paved with Belgian or trap-block pavement."
The street there has not been either guttered, curbed, graded, or regulated; there is no dock or pier at the foot of the street, and, so far as I can ascertain, there is no occasion at present for a pavement there.

I am informed that nearly or quite all the lots fronting upon the street there belong to one owner, and that he has not only not requested this ordinance, but is emphatically opposed to it.
There seems to be no business done there except by him, and he has remonstrated against the proposed pavement.

WM. H. WICKHAM, Mayor.

Received, laid on the table, and directed to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

CHAPTER 476.

AN ACT to provide for a uniform system for the repavement of streets, avenues, and public places in the City of New York.

(Passed May 28, 1875; three-fifths being present.)

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:
SECTION 1. Whenever the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of New York shall certify and report to the Board of Aldermen of said city that the safety, health, or convenience of the public requires the repavement of any streets, avenues, or public places in said city, said Board of Aldermen shall have the power to direct by ordinance or resolution the repavement of said streets, avenues, or public places in the manner specified, and of the materials approved of and recommended by said Commissioner of Public Works, which work shall be done by and under the direction of the Department of Public Works according to law. In case any of the streets, avenues, or public places in said city shall have been once paved, and the expense therefor assessed upon the owners of adjoining and benefited property, the cost of the repaving thereof shall be borne by a general assessment upon all taxable property in said city. The cost of repaving the streets, avenues, or public places in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be included in the estimate of the Department of Public Works, shall be appropriated by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, certified by the Comptroller according to law, and inserted and included in the annual tax levies, and raised and collected by tax upon the estates subject to taxation in the City and County of New York, provided that the amount so appropriated and raised shall not exceed the sum of five hundred thousand dollars in any one single year.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts which are inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed so far as they relate to this act.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State, ss.:

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole of said original law.

Given under my hand and seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the City of Albany, this twenty-eighth day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

[SEAL.] DEDRICH WILLERS, JR.,
Secretary of State.

Which was referred to the Committee on Street Pavements.

The President laid before the Board the following communication from the Department of Public Works:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, ROOM 19, CITY HALL,
NEW YORK, June 1, 1875.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your resolution, adopted 13th ult., requesting me to supply the district bounded by Ninety-third and Eightieth streets, Lexington and Third avenues, with Croton water from the high-service system.

I regret the inability of the Department to comply with the resolution at present. A six-inch main, leading from the principal high-service main across the Central Park to Yorkville, supplies the district bounded by Ninety-fourth and Eighty-third streets, Fifth and Lexington avenues, which includes the highest points. To extend the service to lower elevations, as proposed, would leave the higher points in the same condition in which they were before the introduction of the high service. To increase the capacity of the main across the Park would have the effect of drawing too much water from the principal main, and depriving the Murray Hill district of the necessary supply.

Under ordinary, or normal conditions, the district embraced in your resolution is fairly supplied with Croton water from the regular service, but in consequence of the severity of the past winter, which diminished the natural supply and increased the consumption or waste to a degree and for a length of time never before experienced, the supply in the reservoirs fell far below the usual depth, and has not yet been fully replaced. Hence the demand for high-service water in this and other localities, where the supply has been temporarily short. At the present rate of supply and consumption the nominal depth of water will again be reached during the present month. A further improvement in the supply from the regular service in Yorkville will be effected as soon as the 48-inch main in Eightieth street can be carried across Fourth avenue, where it is now disconnected on account of the improvements in progress.

Very respectfully,
FITZ JOHN PORTER,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Which was ordered on file.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, in Common Council convened, do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 51 of chapter 6 of the Revised Ordinances of 1866, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

The Department of Public Works exclusively shall have power and authority to grant licenses for the sprinkling streets, avenues, or places with water, and to such person or persons as it, in its judgment, from time to time, may deem proper, and who will comply with the conditions of this ordinance, it being hereby expressly provided that, for the protection and health of the citizens, Croton water only shall be used for the purpose of sprinkling said streets, avenues, or places, taken from such of the public hydrants as shall be designated in writing by said Department.

Where more than one person is interested, it is requisite that the verification be made and subscribed by all the parties interested.

No proposal will be received unless accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders of the City of New York, with their respective places of business or residence, to the effect that if the contract be awarded to the person or persons making the bid, they will, on its being so awarded, become bound as sureties for its faithful performance; the consent above mentioned shall be accompanied by the oath or affirmation, in writing, of each of the persons signing the same, taken before a Judge of any Court of Record in this county, that each is a householder or freeholder in the City of New York, and is worth the amount of the security required for the contract, over and above all his debts of every nature, and over and above his liabilities as bail, surety or otherwise; and that he has offered himself as a surety in good faith.

The adequacy and sufficiency of the sureties offered to be approved by the Comptroller of the City of New York after the award is made and prior to the signing of the contract.
